

FILMING OUR TEAM STORY

Your team has talent

Would you like your team:

- To explore and identify hidden talents
- To strengthen the cooperation
- To explore a pending question on a worksituation/ organisational change issue/ reorganisation
- To experience a memorable day with fun and creativity?

Follow the workshop 'Filming our team story'

Writers, Actors, Editors

In a unusual setting the team will work together in developing stories, that will help to answer pending team questions. You will play all the roles of the film crew, including director, cameraman and stagehand. This endeavour will put our team's skills to the test as you write the script, act the piece, film the shots and edit the film.

Video storytelling

People love to tell and share stories. By putting our story into a film, we will build and develop our creativity, social connections in a fun way. Film making gives us a platform to clarify our messages, work creatively together and share our story.

Palm d'or

Your film may or may not win critical acclaim, but will certainly offer you the opportunity to:

- Explore the characters in our team by going beyond our typical roles & ways of working
- Learn together about film making while highlighting our creative & technical abilities
- Have a memorable collective experience through the creation of a team time capsule

Program

9:00 Opening ceremony & ice breaker

9:30 We will spend the morning exploring collaborative storytelling, with film examples, exercises in messaging, storyboarding and filming. We will split in mixed film crews. Each team will write a scenario, plan the production and film the scenes of their own short film.

12:45 Lunch, followed by energiser

13:45 In the afternoon, two people from each team will work on the editing, while the rest of us paint a movie poster, bollywood style.

16:15 The gala premier of the films

16:30 Reflections on "The Making Of"

17:00 Close of the program, optional aperitif

Our Facilitators

Simon Koolwijk is facilitator and a film maker.

He works with groups to help them to make their own short films. His projects often tell stories that might otherwise not be heard - stories of communities, difficult situations and people making a difference.
